The Nerds Epidemic

The beggining

Something is going around with the kids recently. This new candy called Nerds They appear to be these sweet,cunchy,rock like candies. The kids are eating these up.

What do the kids have to say?

12 year old Jake told us “These things are like... totally the best ever!”. Most other kids are saying similar things.

What do we think?

These things have to have some sort of effect on kids and need to be investigated. Elon Musk probably put microchips in them or something.
